Angel House is a residential substance abuse program for women age 18 and older. Their goal is to empower women to move from active alcohol and drug addiction to a life in recovery as productive members of society and to become active in the lives of their families again.

Women who struggle with addiction often battle a variety of issues that negatively impact their lives, and Angel House helps them to begin addressing these issues to achieve long-term recovery. Their greatest accomplishment is to give back to the community its daughters, mothers, sisters, and friends.
